C. M. Tinsley

DON'T WORRY— UNCLE SAM'S ALL RIGHT !

AMERICA TO-DAY

WORDS BY HERBERT MOORE
MUSIC BY
W. R. WILLIAMS

PRESIDENT WILSON.

LIBERTY'S STILL STANDING IN THE BAY.

5

PUBLISHED ALSO FOR BAND AND ORCHESTRA

WILL ROSSITER
THE CHICAGO PUBLISHER
71 W. RANDOLPH ST. CHICAGO ILL.
COPYRIGHT MCMXVII BY WILL ROSSITER

J. F. GRATTAN
Music Dealers
350 MAIN ST.
FITCHBURG, MASS

America To-day

Words by HERBERT MOORE.

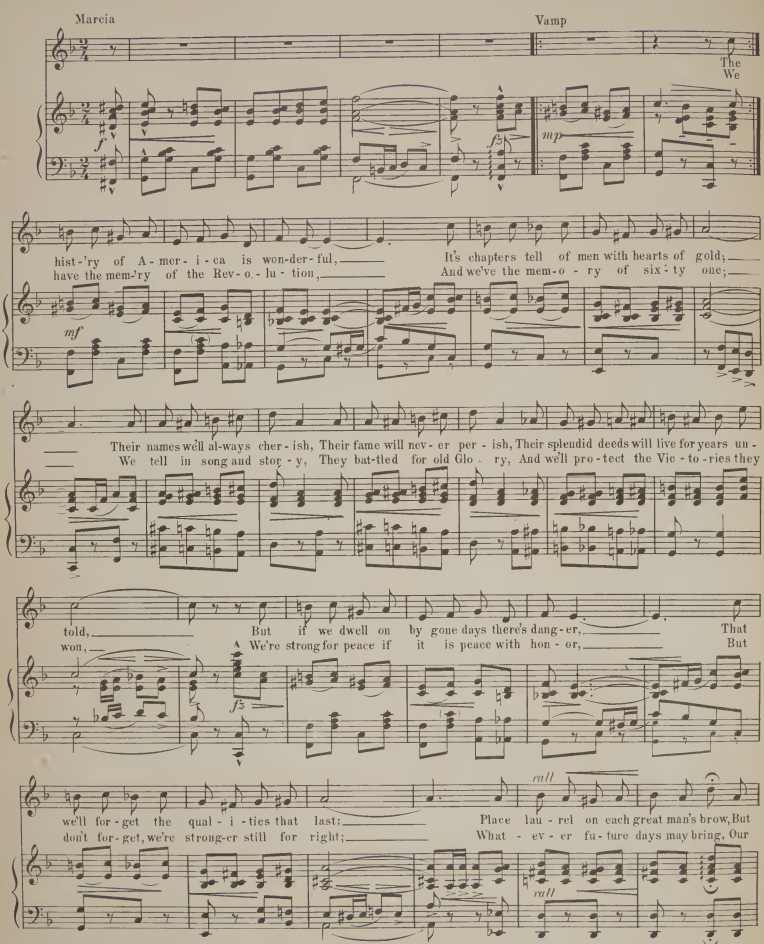
Music by
W. R. WILLIAMS



Marcia
Vamp
The We
hist-'ry of A-mer-i-ca is won-der-ful,
have the mem-'ry of the Rev-o-lu-tion,
It's chapters tell of men with hearts of gold;
And we've the mem-o-ry of six-ty one;
Their names will al-ways cher-ish, Their fame will nev-er per-ish, Their splendid deeds will live for years un-
We tell in song and sto-ry, They bat-tled for old Glo-ry, And will pro-tect the Vic-to-ries they told,
won,
But if we dwell on by gone days there's dang-er,
That
We're strong for peace if it is peace with hon-or,
But
rall
rall
we'll for-get the qual-i-ties that last;
don't for-get, we're strong-er still for right;
Place lau-rel on each great man's brow, But What-ev-er fu-ture days may bring, Our British Copyright Secured.

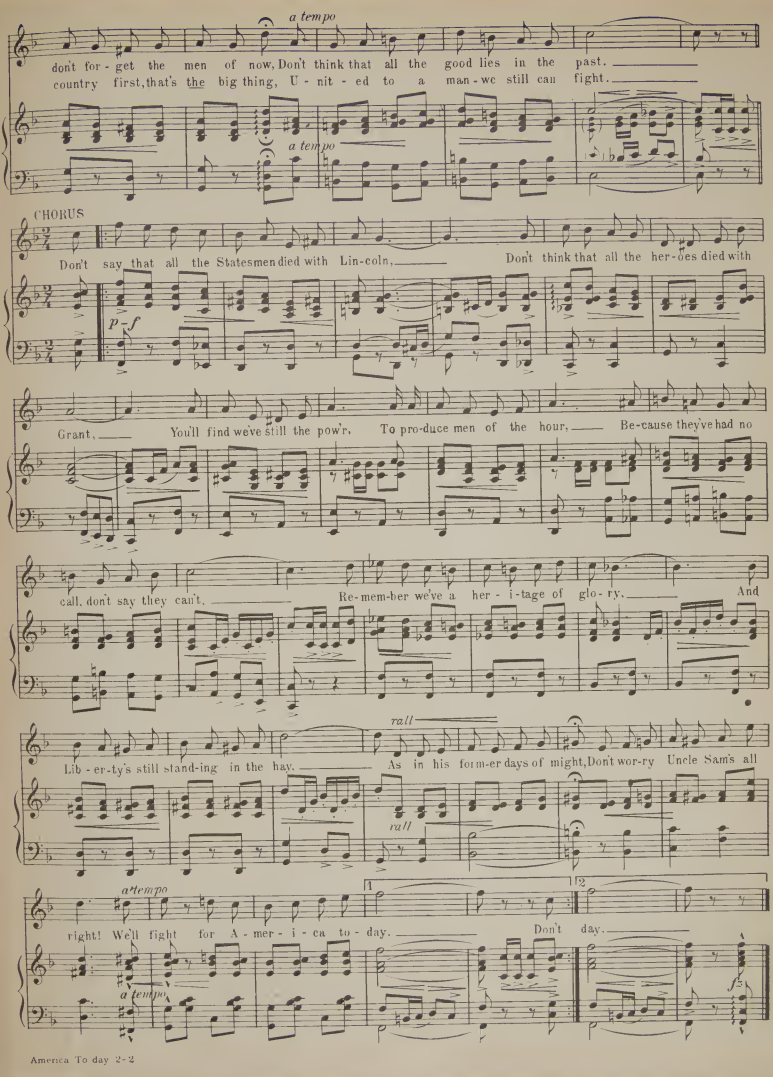
Copyright, MCMXVII, by Will Rossiter, Chicago, Ill.

All Rights Reserved



a tempo
don't for - get the men of now, Don't think that all the good lies in the past.
country first, that's the big thing, U - nit - ed to a man - we still can fight.
a tempo
CHORUS
Don't say that all the Statesmen died with Lin-coln, Don't think that all the her-oes died with p - f Grant.
You'll find we've still the pow'r,
To pro-duce men of the hour,
Be-cause they've had no
call, don't say they can't.
Re-mem-ber we've a her - i-tage of glo-ry,
And
rall
Lib - er-ty's still stand-ing in the bay.
As in his form-er days of might, Don't wor-ry Uncle Sam's all
rall
a tempo
1
2
right! We'll fight for A - mer - i - ca to - day.
Don't day.
a tempo
ff

From Editorial Page of the Chicago "Evening American"

SOMEWHERE SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE

by WM. VAUGHAN DUNBAR and SHELTON BROOKS

Look at the above little picture for a few minutes, and you'll understand what this new ballad "SOMEWHERE, SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE" is all about. The story is well told, and the music is exceptionally good—it's a ballad that will live in the history of song. France has again astonished the world—and we are all glad to sing her praises; either in speech or in song, and we know we can often accomplish more with a song than a sermon. You will show your appreciation for right by having a copy of this song in your home, where your personal friends can see it. When ordering the song, be sure you mention the writers' names, so that you'll be sure to get the right song

WILL ROSSITER, "The Chicago Publisher" 71 W. Randolph Street, CHICAGO, ILL.